

Somerset County Airport (2G9) is a general aviation airport located approximately four miles northeast of Somerset in southwestern Pennsylvania. Situated just off the junction of US Route 219 and I-76, the airport serves primarily local general aviation traffic. The airport is located just 10 miles from the Flight 93 Memorial, and welcomes numerous visitors to the site year-round. The airport supports sightseeing, air charter, police/law enforcement, and regular military activity. In order to support the increasingly diverse air traffic at the airport, the main runway was recently extended to 5,000 feet. The airport also recently completed a new self-serve fuel facility and will soon complete an airport lighting upgrade. These upgrades are targeted at improving facilities to accommodate larger corporate aircraft and will ensure that the airport is able to continue supporting the diverse aviation needs of the surrounding community for years to come.

This airport is classified as a Advanced Airport in Pennsylvania's State Aviation System Plan and is eligible to receive federal funding from the FAA.
